

7 KINGDOM-ALIGNED PROMPTS EVERY
CHRISTIAN PROFESSIONAL SHOULD TRY

FAITH + Ai

LEELO BUSH PHD

INTRODUCTION & INSPIRATION

7 KINGDOM-ALIGNED PROMPTS EVERY CHRISTIAN PROFESSIONAL SHOULD TRY

AI isn't just a tool for tech enthusiasts – it's a platform for Spirit-led innovation. Whether you're a coach, counselor, author, or ministry leader, these prompts will help you harness AI in a way that honors your calling and reflects your faith. These are not shortcuts – they are starting points, designed to be prayed over, refined, and used with discernment.

You can use these prompts with ChatGPT or Claude – both offer free versions, and it only takes a few minutes to create an account. Once inside, you'll find a simple chat interface where you can type in any of the prompts from this guide. That's when the creative process begins. AI will generate ideas, outlines, suggestions, or even sample content based on your input – but the real beauty happens when you invite the Holy Spirit to co-labor with you as you edit, shape, and speak life into what's created.

One of the most powerful uses for these tools is helping aspiring Christian authors begin their personal testimony or biography. If you've felt the tug to share your life story – the struggles, the turning points, the unmistakable moments where God showed up – there's a prompt inside that can help you organize those memories into a meaningful, God-glorifying narrative. It's not about writing a perfect book. It's about being faithful to the story God gave you.

AI can't replace your anointing, your voice, or your unique experiences – but it can help you get unstuck, see new angles, and move past that intimidating blank page. With prayer, discernment, and a teachable spirit, you'll find that AI becomes less of a machine and more of a ministry tool – one that helps you bring your message to life faster, clearer, and with greater impact.

CHRISTIAN DEVOTIONAL DRAFT

Imagine you want to create a daily devotional, something short and meaningful to inspire your audience. You can begin by asking the AI to write about a specific scripture or theme.

For example, ask it to create a 300-word devotional centered on Romans 12:2 or the topic of hope in hard seasons. Request that it include a personal reflection, a biblical takeaway, and a short prayer. This becomes your foundation. You then read through it, discern what speaks truth, and add your own voice and stories. It's a co-creation – not between you and a machine, but between you and the Holy Spirit, using the machine as a tool.

CLIENT BREAKTHROUGH QUESTIONS

Perhaps you have a coaching session coming up and your client is feeling stuck – maybe they’re wrestling with grief, doubt, or a major decision. You can ask AI to suggest powerful questions that can open up reflection and lead to insight.

The responses you receive aren’t perfect, but they can help get you started. You may be led to reword some, discard others, and select just a few that feel Spirit-breathed. Ask for scripture references to accompany the questions, and let God guide you in choosing the ones that align with your client’s heart and journey.

CONTENT REPURPOSING FOR IMPACT

Perhaps you have a coaching session coming up and your client is feeling stuck – maybe they’re wrestling with grief, doubt, or a major decision. You can ask AI to suggest powerful questions that can open up reflection and lead to insight.

The responses you receive aren’t perfect, but they can help get you started. You may be led to reword some, discard others, and select just a few that feel Spirit-breathed. Ask for scripture references to accompany the questions, and let God guide you in choosing the ones that align with your client’s heart and journey.

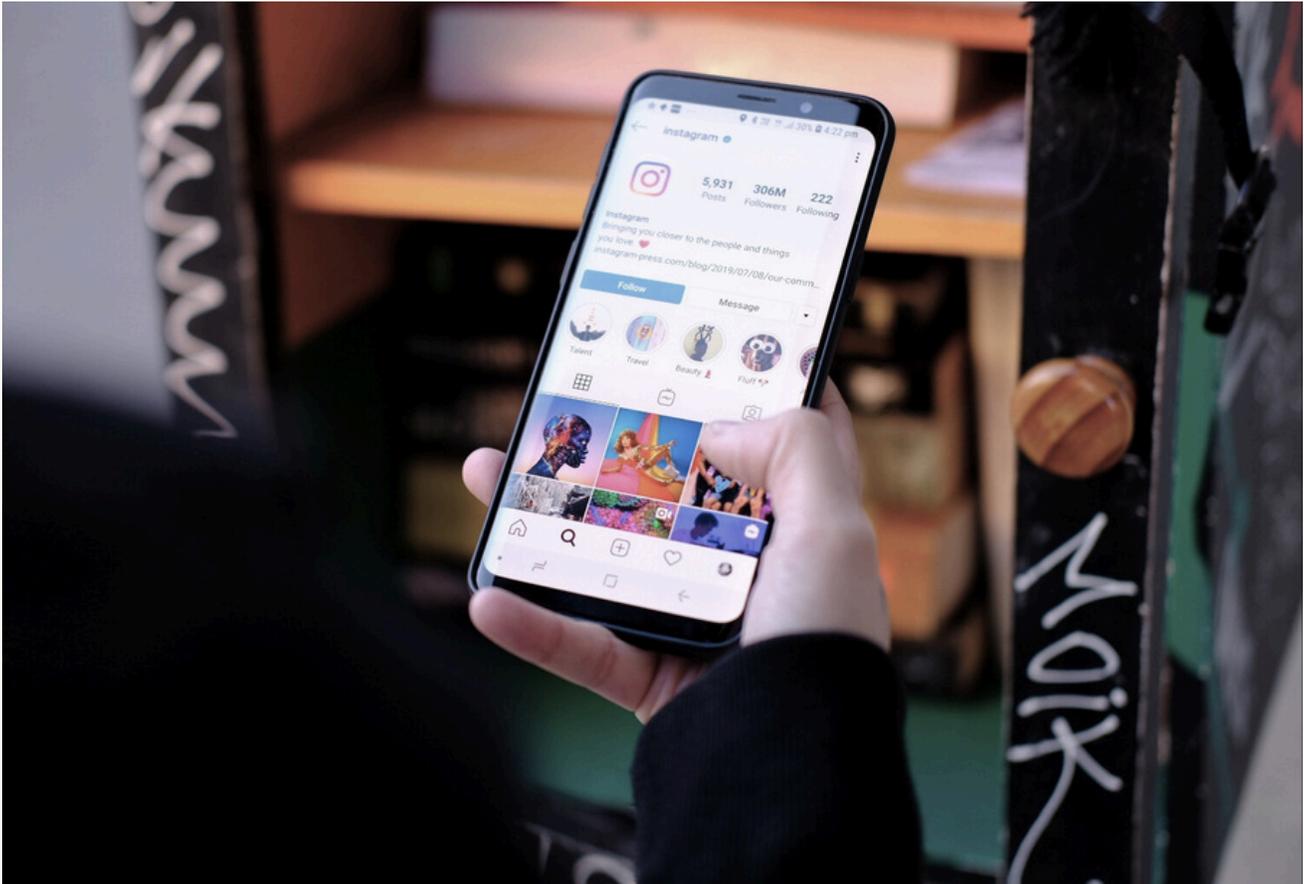

KINGDOM WORKSHOP TITLE IDEAS

When planning an online workshop or live session, one of the hardest parts is choosing a title that truly resonates. This is where AI can be a secret weapon.

Ask for a list of 10 or more title ideas for a Christian workshop on a topic like forgiveness, identity in Christ, or navigating transition. Specify that your audience is made up of women in ministry, Christian entrepreneurs, or new believers – whoever you're called to serve. You'll receive a range of suggestions, from the basic to the creative. And sometimes, just reading through the list sparks a title in your own spirit that captures exactly what you were meant to say.

INSTAGRAM CAPTIONS WITH SCRIPTURE

Social media is a powerful ministry platform, but it's also time-consuming. When you're looking to post meaningful content consistently, AI can help lighten the load.

Ask it for short, inspirational Instagram captions based on a particular scripture or theme – perhaps peace, renewal, or God's promises. Tell it to keep each post under 100 words and suitable for Christian coaches or counselors. You'll likely receive several good drafts, which you can then personalize with your unique tone and voice. This allows you to stay visible and present online without burning out or compromising the spiritual depth of your message.

CHRISTIAN BIOGRAPHY & TESTIMONY WRITING PROMPT

Telling your life story is more than just recalling memories – it’s an act of testimony that can point others to the faithfulness of God. If you feel called to share what you’ve been through and how God met you in the middle of it all, AI can help you bring clarity and direction to the writing process.

Let’s say you want to write a Christian biography or testimony that captures your journey through loss, redemption, healing, or transformation. Ask for a chapter-by-chapter outline that includes major life events, spiritual breakthroughs, supporting scriptures, and themes of hope or restoration.

You may not use everything that’s suggested – and that’s okay. These ideas are meant to help you organize your thoughts so you can focus on the heart of the message: how God showed up in your story. This is about more than just writing a book. It’s about leaving a legacy of faith that others can draw strength from.

SPIRIT-LED BUSINESS STRATEGY

Finally, as a Christian entrepreneur or coach, you may feel pressure to do it all – market, sell, post content, grow your email list. It’s easy to lose your peace in the process. That’s when AI can become a powerful partner.

You can ask it for a simple, faith-aligned strategy to grow your business this season. Request time-saving ideas, biblical mindset reminders, and suggestions that help you prioritize wisely. What comes back might not be revolutionary, but it may organize your thoughts and give you clarity about what really matters. It becomes your framework – one you can tweak with prayer, intuition, and insight from the Lord.

© 2025 by Leelo Bush, Ph.D. | PCCCA | Beautiful Life International, LLC. All rights reserved.

Harness Your Grand Opportunity

These prompts are meant to spark clarity, not replace your wisdom. Use them prayerfully. Customize freely. And always let the Holy Spirit have the final word.

You are not behind. You are being equipped. Let's build boldly – together.

And remember: as the digital landscape evolves, there's a great need for leaders like you who can steward new tools without compromising timeless truth. As you explore what AI can do, keep your spiritual compass strong. The Kingdom needs both your discernment and your creativity – now more than ever.

Dr. Leelo Bush

With nearly three years of daily, hands-on experience integrating AI, Dr. Bush is quietly leading the movement to equip Christian professionals to harness AI with integrity, discernment, and a Kingdom purpose. Her work continues to shape the future of faith-based leadership in a rapidly changing world. The original pioneer in Spirit-led Christian coaching, grief coaching and Christian counselor training and certification, as well as author and founder of PCCCA and Anew University, she has trained tens of thousands of Christian coaches, counselors, faith-based entrepreneurs and leaders worldwide. For support and AI consultancy engagement, contact <https://beautifulhelpdesk.com>

